TO-DAY is Washington's birthday, and the school children throughout the land will hear the story of George and what he accomplished with his little hatchet.
With the school children of Kansas, George is a back number. They point with pride to what Mrs. Nation has accomplished with her little hatchet.

A PARIS young man advertised for a wife under an assumed name a few months ago. His sister seeing the advertisement, answered it under an assumed name, and a desperate case was soon ripe enough for an exchange of photographs, then the romance fell to 35 degrees below zero in less than two minutes.

Ten Dollars and Thirty Days.

Teachers Get Their Pay.

The City Council met yesterday afternoon and appropriated money sufficient to pay the salaries of the teachers in the public schools for the past five weeks ending to-day. This is the second appropriation made by the council for this purpose, there being at the present time two school boards, and until the matter is settled in the courts there is no money for teachers except it be appropriated by the council.

A FIVE YEAR SENTENCE

A Jury In the Federal Court Finds J. L. Bosley Guilty, and Sends Him To the Columbus Penitentiary.

SHERMAN STIVERS FOUND
NOT GUILTY.

The Verdict a Great Surprise to the Friends of Mr. Bosley.

John L. Bosley, former postmaster at Paris, was yesterday found guilty in the Federal Court of embezzling $381 of the office and sentenced to five years in the Columbus, (Ohio) penitentiary. The jury recommended Bosley to the mercy of the court, as it seems the offense was due to lax business methods rather than criminal intent.

Sherman Stivers, assistant postmaster under Bosley, was found not guilty with a similar offense, was found not guilty by the jury after a two-hour deliberation.

When the information was received in Paris yesterday afternoon that Mr.
Bosley had been convicted, it came in the nature of a shock to almost everyone who heard it. The almost universal opinion seems to be that the sentence is excessive. There is hardly a person in Paris who believes that Mr. Bosley wilfully appropriated the funds. That he was careless and negligent in his conduct of the postoffice he admit, but that he deliberately misappropriated the funds with the intention of robbing the government, no one believes. THE NEWS interviewed fifty citizens on the subject, and that was the unanimous expression.
It was Mr. Bosley's own honest confession on the witness stand which convicted him. Had he denied that he had ever used any of the funds in any manner, the probability is that he would have been acquitted. But he admitted having used small sums at different times, always, however, returning it, and each time placing a cash slip in the drawer for the amount taken out.

Should a petition be circulated to the President asking for Mr. Bosley's pardon, it is safe to say it would receive the signature of almost every acquaintance of Mr. Bosley in this county.
The following from the Courier-Journal of yesterday explains why Mr.
Bosley received the sentence, although he was technically not guilty of misappropriating the funds:

Alleged good intentions do not figure with Federal Judge Evans in his construction of the law. A man may have the best meaning in the world, but an accidental slip means a Government prison if the instructions of the Judge to the jury are headed by that body. This was proved yesterday in the case of John L. Bosley, formerly postmaster at Paris, who is on trial on the charge of embezzling about $410 from the postoffice fund of his office.

The evidence showed, and Bosley confessed, that he was in the habit of taken small sums from the money order department, putting in a cash slip and at the end of the week replacing the money taken from the money order fund by drawing on his salary.
He had, he professed, absolutely no intentions to defraud the Government.
Only when he was hard up he would borrow from the Government fund for a few days, always placing in the cash slip and taking it up at the last of the week. On one occasion he took as much as $10. That constitutes the Federal offense.
Attorney W. M. Smith defended Bosley and he pleaded his client's good intentions. Mr. Smith showed how Bosley, when he found the funds had become mixed, wrote himself to the department to investigate and straighten the matter. On the report of the inspector Bosley was arrested for embezzlement.

District Attorney Hill spoke for the strict interpretation of the law, and in his instructions to the jury Judge Evans followed out the lines of the District Attorney's speech.
The jury went out, stayed an hour, then reported to ask for more time.
Sherman Stivers, who was in the office under Bosley, will be tried today for a similar offense.
